

Title: The princess and the pea

Once upon a time, there was a princess called "Voronica". She was a little girl who lived in a palace in Japan.

One day, under the bed there was a pea which was smaller than a grain of rice. The princess liked that smallest pea in the world.

One week after, a boy told Voronica that the small pea was a prince from United States.

The princess thought that if the prince is handsome, she would like to marry him, if not, she will hit him.

The next day, Voronica asked the boy about the handsome prince, and the boy said, "oh, the witch turned the prince to a pea and said the prince will not be a prince anymore. But, a fairy came and said when a princess kisses him, he will be a prince again." The princess heard that and she said good bye to the boy and went to the palace.

When the princess arrived to the palace, she thought about the case for a long time. She wondered if the story was true or not.
